$12.50

Raglan. Can you mutch it for

Ulsters, Newmarkets, Ragians,

At the Washington St. Store.

ULSTERS, made of the finest imported kerseys, in all colors, some lined throughout with the very best lining satin; also a few with fine beaver collar and revers; all heavily strapped with same material; about 40 to select from; garments $23.50 worth up to $40.00.....

ULSTERS, in tan, castor, black and Oxford, half or tight-fitting, half lined,

coat or storm collar, kersey, melton or English covert cloth, with or without yoke, $22.00 and $25.00 $17.50

RAGLANS-A new lot on sale to-morrow; all sizes, all lengths, extra quality melton cloth, in the new Oxfords,

SILK SKIRTS

The space is not sufficient to describe the immense showing of taffeta, peau

de soie and velvet Skirts at the Washington-street store. Suffice to say that we will place on sale to-morrow 100

pure silk and velvet Skirts, magnificent styles, well made in every particular; not one in the lot worth less than $17.50; your choice $12.98

him the making of a merchant prince will get there no matter what liberties he may take with the letters of a word. The boy find it hard to make progress if he takes

The day may come when spelling will be anarchistic, every man following his own sweet will. Until that day shall come it generation to learn to spell in accordance may seem. This will not impair the literary, artistic or business capacity any of those who belong to that generation may possess. It will help many to earn a decent living and enable them to escape the jibes

and feers which persons who can spell cor-

RISE OF THE CRAWFISH.

How the Demand for This Crustacean

Has Grown.

coon's reach, and awaiting with apparent

How many crawfish are marketed and consumed during the season in this city

'During the crawfish season," said a gen-them by the bucket, paying anywhere from 20 to 30 cents a bucket for them. The price, scarcity of the article. We use the quan-constitute the crawfish season, March and April. Of course we have a few crawfish be-closed, but the season, properly speaking, simply pour in from all sections. They are the dozens. They are always found in shal-they frequently use cotton twine for fishing cannot be estimated definitely. Roughly speaking, it would be necessary to count

viewpoint of the epicurean caterer.

at this season of the year.

New Orleans Times-Democrat.

rectly permit themselves at the expense of | world.

similar liberties.

those who cannot.

the conclusion that he was badly brought one may be convinced of this by an ex-

up, and they do not think quite so much amination of a crawfish nest at the edge of of him as they did. If they find him mak- a lagoon, a creek or a bayou. The nest is ing blunders in the spelling of common simply a hole large enough to admit the words they have a feeling of pained sur- | body. It is burrowed below the water level, prejudices in favor of correct spelling. | may have access to the stream or lagoon

They do not wish to have in their employ for feeding purposes. Like other crustapersons who make what they consider un- ceans he is fond of vegetable juices, the pardonable blunders. The boy who has in smaller aquatic insects and things of that who has only the abilities of a clerk will | eight or ten inches above the ground. This

The crawfish is quietly resting on his How an American Met Unaccustomed

There are many employers who still have | main body of water, so that the crawfish

ABASED ENGLISH SPEECH

VIEWS OF GEORGE RIDDLE, THE NOTED SHAKSPEAREAN READER.

He Thinks a Decadence is Marked in the Common Slipshod Utterances and Mispronunciations.

George Riddle, in New York Sun.

The English language is becoming more and more the language of the world, in commerce, social intercourse and in promoting peace among the nations. When spoken by the best speakers it is the most vigorous as well as the sweetest and most poetical language. Yet, in its usual utterance or delivery, even among educated people, it is the most abused language in the world, especially in the United States.

The very few men and women who have a high standard of speech have not been able to make that standard generally recognized, and, consequently, there have been manifest for the last twenty years a carelessness and vulgarity of speech, acwell bring forth the query: Is the art of delivery a lost art, and what is to be the end of this shameful decadence? the clearness of our discourse depends, are correct pronunciation and distinct enunciation. Manner, which includes attitude and gesture, is another essential.

vocably the French of Paris; in Germany, the German of Hanover; in Italy, the Ital-

There is a tradition of speech in those has been able to destroy.

What is the standard of English speech? It cannot be located in any one place. It might be fair to say that he speaks the his nationality and environment, whether | gerous thing. he be from London, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston or Kalamazoo.

WHERE THE DIFFERENCE IS. educated Americans and English is one of atory, which had its nascency in Harvard intenation and inflection, not of vowel sounds and it may be added that no Amerispeaks like an Englishman, for the American has more variety of speech. man lies in the fact that tradition of speech obtains more with him than with the American. The English are not forever dickering and changing the pronunciation of words. Nothing seems to delight the American orthoepist more than to apply the provincialisms of his particular locality and environment to words which have elsewhere had a stable pronunciation for generations. Some years ago Webster, from Connecticut, ordered keg to be pronounced cag, and for years the spinsters of New England surrounded their oleander cags and gardening beds with clam-shell borders. At a time when the theater was emerging from the curses of the prejudiced, and when sane persons had ceased to consider it a concoction of the devil, Worcester spoke of the drayma, and then we began to hear of Cleo-

Happily, the Anglo-Saxon is a great traveler, and people have come out of their narrow shells. To speak good English one must travel or associate with those who have traveled. Every country has its dialects. It is not so many years ago that a north Scotsman could hardly understand a south Scotsman, and the worst insult you could give to a native of the region of Robert Burns was to tell him that he talked like a native of Aberdeen. An inhabitant of speech of the county of Kerry, and vice of the orator.

TNDIGENOUS DIALECT. The United States has its own indigenous dialects, besides those introduced from nonenglish speaking countries. They may be classified broadly as Yankee, Western and Southern, although of late a new cockney dialect has been introduced by the American "smart set," which affords much diversion to our English cousins. It is the diffusion of these dialects into our every-day speech which, if allowed to proceed will work ruin to the beauty of our

When even college professors use such vulgarisms of speech, as nooz for news, git for get, gut for got, ben for been, and so on, almost ad infinitum, it is time to call a halt. That which Artemus Ward meant for satirical dialect when he wrote from Boston, "I meant to have allooded to the Grate Orgin," is no exaggeration of most of the English heard to-day in schools and col-

A few Jeremiahs have already protested in the minor key, but the minor key does not appeal forcibly to Americans, a large part of whom are athletic-mad. A jeremiad, even if uttered through a population on the golf links, the gridiron, the diamond, the tennis courts and the riv-The response of the exuberant Isalahs to any suggested reform of speech may be interpreted: "This is the age of steam, electricity and the telegraph. We must have rapid transit in all things, even in education. You are too slow. Art is short, because life is fleeting. New methods of inefficient insufficiency are what we want. We prefer to take lessons in singing, on niano the violin or the mandolin rather than in speaking. Our speech is at least intelligible.

A SUPERFICIAL AGE.

This is the age of steam and electricity with a vengeance. It is the age of indolent superficiality skimming over the surface of things in its alleged eclecticism of education and "culture." It is the age of overcrowded curricula in schools and colleges with athletics on top and pure speech at the bottom. It is the age when the flat goes forth, "Boys and girls, if you can spell a word correctly, it matters not how you pronounce it. You will be understood someference. After all, if you speak too distinct- States on this question of social equality. ly and correctly, you may not be easily

The hissing of steam and the generation nothing but the agents of restless and ineffectual persons who indulge in pother and parade. It has been well said that the real. work of this world is performed in silence. It is not alone in schools and colleges that one hears detestable English, and sees loose-jointedness and awkwardness.

Listen to the clergy. No wonder that Bishop Potter lately pronounced the entrance into the pulpit of a minister unable to speak the English language with correciness and elegance an impertinent in-

Go to the Senate and House of Representatives, to the State Legislature and to the Courts of Justice! You will see slouchy and indolent attitudes, you will hear senators and representatives butcher the King's English while twisting the British lion's tail, and you will hear legislators and lawyers talk of the lorof (law of) the land. Go into the fashionable drawing rooms and listen to the twaddle on athletics and the mispronunciation of the hoodlums of

Fifth avenue, the Back Bay and Walnut THE THEATERS OFFEND. Go to the thesters! Witness a modern production of a Shakspearian play, and you will see a panorama of splendidly-designed scenery, a cunningly-devised scheme of lighting, with "the star" chased by the lime-light, appropriate costumes and artistic groupings. But the delivery of the lines retains all the hideous mouthings and vices | hospitality. of fifty years ago, vices reformed altogether by Edwin Forrest and Edwin Booth in their later days, but now revived in "modern productions." Modern? As far as delivery is concerned they are, in the words of Aristophanes, "antediluvian and full of grasshoppers." These are parlous times,

There is not time to dwell on all the causes and growth of this deplorable decadence of speech, which appeared and developed like a pestilence, all at once and in every direction. It is enough that the plague is here, and it must be met. It ought to be stamped out in homes, but little assistance is to be expected in those quarters, for the plague is as "ordinary" as the "lunacy" of

does not prevent a transgressor from being punished by the law, so the unconscious vi- | plete in the whole country. plator of pure speech is subject to criticism, no matter how lofty his position.

perity we have learned to consider our- than any of the Western towns, and both selves as little below the dwellers of the its social and intellectual life are of the angelic belt, we are, nevertheless, a nation | highest and most delightful order. The of imitators, and it is well that the coun- | capital of Indiana is forging ahead of the try has produced some worthy models. Since the deaths of Wendell Phillips and in the quality of its public buildings and in Henry Ward Beecher no one, by the most | the spirit and temper of its people elastic stretch of the imagination, has "I spent a couple of days in bluegrass appeared who in manner is worthy to be | Kentucky this week and gathered the imcalled an orator. Great speeches may have | pression that Henry Watterson's candidacy been written, but their delivery has not for Governor is not seriously regarded been great. There is no American orator | there. living who is worthy to be imitated. show the power of imitation. A young au- of the people of his State. They love him thor of distinction was invited to deliver | in spite of all inconsistencies, and even ina poem before the Phi Beta Kappa of a dulge his faults.

great American university. Not being accustomed to public speaking he took the imaginations of Kentuckians, who tell the dacity, which is contemporary with steam | cated and prominent gentlemen to tell me and electricity, he expected to be prepared -and to a certain extent was prepared-in four hours. At his rehearsal he could be heard with ease in all parts of the hall, and "he stood like a gentleman." ORATOR AND POET.

According to custom he was preceded by the orator, a man of learning, force and power, whose oration was largely devoted to the destruction of the Greek language in superbly constructed English, but, unhappily, delivered with a nasal tone and with a manner not suggestive of | man in Kentucky than he is anywhere Grecian grace, though from its assurance | else companied by slouchiness of manner, in all it was meant to suggest naturalness and the professions and in society, which may ease. The orator rested his right elbow on the desk, his left arm was akimbo and his legs were crossed. The poet, who had sat behind the orator, ever he pleases-just as a gentleman hen advanced to the desk, and throwing his should." then advanced to the desk, and throwing his The main essentials of delivery, on which | four hours of instruction to the four winds, deliberately imitated the delivery and awkward manner of the orator. Again, during one of the political campaigns in Massachusetts, several young college graduates were invited to speak at a meeting, which was to be addressed by In France, the standard of speech is irre- older speakers. The latter had their oldfashioned fling first, using the monotonous cadences employed before the revolutionary war and giving the impression of playing a ian of Florence; in Spain, the Spanish of part rather than of projecting their own personalities.

The young men, who were charming speakers in their college days when under cities which neither eccentricity nor caprice | guidance, imitated their elders, like the latter ending each sentence with an exasperating rising inflection Neither the Phi Beta Kappa poet nor the young graduates had had enough training. In a word, they were not artists. A little best English whose speech does not betray | training, like a little learning, is a dan-It is difficult to be simple, natural and effective at the same time. It requires years of practice, and every attempt to break away from assiduous training has ended The principal difference of speech between | in the contemptible hand-in-the-pocket or-College. Pronunciation and enunciation should be taught and acquired in childhood. It is can need feel flattered when told that he scandalous that the professors and instructors in elecution of our universities should be compelled to devote so much time to the correction of vulgarisms of speech and The principal advantage of the English- the slurring and mumbling of words. It is more scandalous when a corrected student asserts, "If I were to speak correctly at home. I should be laughed at by the members of my family and the neighbors. I should be considered as putting on airs."

CORRECT SPEECH IMPORTANT. It may or may not be true that the curricula of schools are already too crowded. It is true that every teacher is apt to think his specialty the most important, and, backed by outside influence, he pushes his work to the front, and the devil takes the

Nothing should be more important than city. correct speech. Even music is now taught in many public schools and poverty-stricken indeed is that household which is not furnished with some musical instrument or some screeching Maria or James.

That beautiful music well rendered is a refining influence is not to be disputed. But young men and women not possessed of musical voices and the talent to play musical instruments should not be encouraged beyond a love and appreciation of music, and many neighborhoods would thus be rid of much cacophonous caterwauling. It is probable that the revival of debating the county of Armagh, Ireland, detects the | by the universities may restore the vogue

The best speaking of to-day is that which is heard on university debating platforms, and it is largely due to the fact that "the teams" are coached in manner as well as

Still there is room for improvement in pronunciation. At a recent debate between Harvard and Yale, both sides as well as the presiding officer were offenders. The latter | Irish Theory that It Is Too Much Inconstantly said argumunt (argument), and the youthful debaters spoke of wotter (water), silunce (silence), an (and), wen

The authorities of universities might with propriety retort that in order to make the study of delivery an intellectual pursuit, it is neither necessary nor sane to establish a psychic relation between the thorax and the lobes of the ears, nor to develop the soul by tone-coloring. As for the clergy, they may well be "Left to heaven. And to those thorns that in their bosoms

To prick and sting them." definition of virtue.

The "smart set," which is synonomous when it is the fashion to do so. The best

LIKES INDIANAPOLIS.

John Temple Graves Writes His Impressions to Atlanta Journal.

things he has observed in this part of the

"A week of rather careful observation in assurance that the Washington dinner it does in Georgia.

"With the difference that comment here is as much more guarded as the conditions are different among the people who speak. "The opinion is general and quietly expressed that the President made a mistake, and that his attitude does not represent how, and if you are not, it makes no dif- | the feeling of the white people of these

"I could give you the names of some gentlemen who entertain this view who are so of electricity in the educational scheme are | high in station and so representative in character that the mere mention of them would give immense emphasis to the quiet condemnation of the President's impulsive error. But of course the sanctity of a private conversation among gentlemen, cannot be violated even for the pleasure of the Journal. It is sufficient to say that they occupy a station so near to the President and so potential in the policies of the state and government that what they think may well be taken to represent the public opinion of this section of the Union. Senator Foraker is making constant use of the Washington dinner in his fiery Still It Is Undoubtedly True that a speeches in the Ohio campaign. The senator is fighting for the Legislature and his own re-election, but it comes to me direct that his defense of Roosevelt is inspired by the fact that the Democrats of Ohio are using the incident with great effect in the state campaign, and that Foraker and the Republicans are on the defensive. "Ohio has less real love for the negro than any other middle State. The riot at Akron, the riot at Washington Courthouse, the trouble at Cleveland, and the memorable row over the mixed public schools at Felicity, all illustrates a race prejudice which is as virile in Ohio as in Georgia. And there can be no doubt that Senator Foraker and his party are in danger of osing votes in the state contest, as a result of our Rough Rider's indiscriminate "I am willing to bet a dollar against a White House, and that he will have no country. Possibly they could not have successors of his own color at the presi- been any more useful than they were had dential board. "It will do to watch this development, Nevertheless, it is altogether expedient at is in March and April, for if the President means social equality, e will give us another example of it. "This city of Indianapolis is growing as fast and as finely as any of the third-rate grammar school, for not many learn after- and it is easy enough to gather them by cities of the United States. It has added some 20 per cent, to its population within of public and private character are going 'Within the present year the old Bates Hotel, one of the best in the middle States, love. A peculiar phase of the disease is the and valued at $250,000, has been torn down where he should use his fork he is no less reasoning powers, if they have any at all. There they use steam, but chemicals are unconsciousness of being afflicted by its in- and there is now building on its site a kindness and hearty hospitality of its peo-While in our material growth and pros- ple. It is more like Philadelphia in its spirit capital of Ohio in population, in progress,

"The brilliant and erratic editor undoubt-I would like to give a few instances to edly has a strong hold upon the affections pleted, one of the most elegant and com-

"But I like Indianapolis for the prevailing

"He has also a powerful hold upon the precaution to be coached by an instructor | most improbable stories in connection with n elocution. With the usual American au- him. For instance, I had three well-eduin perfect seriousness that Watterson's salary as editor of the Courier-Journal was

"The Kentucky mind always looks out upon the world through a magnifying glass of great power grass hero-worshipers confided to a friend. in good faith, the information that in a master fight down on the Massasip, John Breckinridge, Kentucky's noble son, had, with his own hand, slain a hundred thousand Yankees! "And Mr. Watterson is a prophet honored in his own country. He is, in fact, a bigger

"He is a brilliant, genial gentleman, and deserves the good things that come to him. But he is not a statesman. He is devoid of the logical faculty and is free enough and honest enough to change his mind when-

SCHEME FOR A MODEL CITY.

An Interesting Feature Proposed for the St. Louis Fair.

A scheme for a model city to be erected in the confines of the St. Louis world's fair will be adopted this evening at a meeting of the Municipal Art Society of New York at the National Arts Club, 37 West Thirtyfourth street. The following committee was appointed last week by John De Witt Warner, president of the society, to prepare a report on the subject: Charles C. Haight, chairman; Charles R. Lamb, Charles M. Robinson, Mrs. E. Hegeman Hall, Charles R. Crandall and Albert Kelsey, of Phila-

Mr. Lamb, who has been prominent in formulating the scheme for the model city. said to-day that it was proposed to suggest to the St. Louis authorities that a small plaza be set apart for the purpose in view. On it could be erected an administration building, fire and police departments, a hospital, and departments of parks, street cleaning, lampposts, signs, etc.

"All the important administrative departments of a city," Mr. Lamb went on to say, "could be centralized in this way at an expense of from $200,000 to $300,000, in addition to what it would cost to erect them in different parts of the city. But they would afford a valuable object lesson, if our scheme should be carried out, of how these departments of a city should be conducted. "If St. Louis properly recognizes the importance of this enterprise it will get to work on it at once. Our overtures in the matter have been favorably received by ex-Governor Francis, president of the exposition. There is a tremendous waste connected with these world's fairs. The expenses at Buffalo were over $6,000,000 and at Chicago over $30,000,000. Now, at St. Louis, for instance, the electric light poles, the signposts, the hydrants and fountains, etc., could be made, after the most approved fashion, of permanent material, and after the exposition is over could be used in the "St. Louis has already appropriated $1,-000,000 to make the city attractive to visitors. If the authorities would devote onequarter of that sum to the scheme of a model city advocated by the Municipal Art Society of New York it would be greatly to their advantage. The sum of $15,000,000 has been guaranteed by the national and state governments for the exposition. 'The erection of a model city at St. Louis such as I have outlined would be a big drawing card. It has never been done before at any exposition. Our cities are becoming more and more crowded every year, and it is of paramount importance that they should be healthy places of residence. The science of living in the great cities must be carefully studied, and every object lesson of how a city may be made more healthy and more beautiful is unquestionably of great value."

WHAT AILS ROYALTY?

termarried for Health.

Justin McCarthy, in the Independent. A curious fact, which is perhaps not always borne in mind by American readers, is that the reigning royal houses of Europe may be said almost literally to belong to a single family. An interesting article which have just been reading in the Dublin Freeman's Journal, the leading newspaper of Ireland, insists that one main cause of the illnesses which at present affect so many royal houses in Europe is to be found in the fact that "the sovereigns of Europe have disregarded that great law of nature which discountenances the marriages of Let them practice, which is Aristotle's near blood relations." The article goes on to tell us that while "there are in Europe over a score of emperors, kings and minor with the "dull set," will reform its speech | reigning sovereigns, all but two are the descendants of James I of England, the only elements of the complex structure of so- child of the marriage of Darnley and Mary clety will be guided by and will listen to Queen of Scots." The King of Sweden, megaphone, cannot reach the ears of a vast the moral force of awakened public sen- who, as everybody knows, is the descendant of Marshal Bernadotte, one of the soldiers whom the great Napoleon raised from the ranks and set upon a throne, and the Prince of Montenegro, who became a sovereign ruler within the recollection of us all, are almost the only exceptions. The result of this condition of things naturally is that European princes and princesses are compelled to marry "in and in," if I may In a letter to the Atlanta Journal, dated | use that colloquial expression when dealing | at Indianapolis on Oct. 31, John Temple
Graves has the following to say about more or less nearly related to their own nest to protect himself from the wily racmore or less nearly related to their own. The traditional custom of royal families in Europe does not sanction the introduction of actual strangers to marriage with one of a reigning family. This custom was, these great middle States gives me definite of course, disregarded by self-made monarchs like Napoleon III of France, but makes about the same impression here that in every sense-do not count for much in the history of imperial and royal houses. We have just heard that an Austrian archduchess has resolved to marry the man of | her choice, although he is not a member of a reigning family. The late Queen Victoria is much commended by the writer of the article in the Freeman's Journal for her courage and good sense in sanctioning and promoting the marriage of a daughter and granddaughter to men who were not of imperial or royal family. But Queen Victoria was a woman very much in advance of the habitudes and traditions which governed the doings of nearly all other European sovereigns, and the innovations which she promoted do not much affect the general state of things in Europe. At present there is hardly a European imperial or royal family which is not oppressed by serious and boding illness of some kind, and it is only reasonable to say that some explanation of this fact may be found in est appearance of the crawfish in the local this system of intermarriage. It is certainly a curious historical fact that the dynasty giving these great names to the readers of of the Stuarts, in many ways the worst dynasty that ever ruled over England. should have left so many descendants | dustry count simply on two months, March | among the reigning houses of Europe.

PREFER GOOD SPELLING.

Bad Speller May Prosper.

Chicago Tribune.

The other day one of the speakers at a meeting of the Hull House Woman's Club was asked whether the new methods of teaching spelling had not proved to be failures and whether there were not more poor spellers now than there used to be. The answer to this was: "I cannot see that the question is of importance. The a great quantity is consumed by families end of all existence is not to learn to who gather them for themselves. spell. If a child can't spell when he leaves high school he will learn to do so ulti- tleman who is connected with a popular mately. For my part, I would prefer a place in Royal street, "I suppose we conboy who could think and not spell to one | sume 500 or 600 buckets of crawfish. We buy who could spell and not think." It is true that a man can be a great merchant, statesman, painter or poet and | of course, depends on the abundance or yet be a poor speller. There are many loughnut that Booker Washington does not | men who cannot spell correctly and yet | tity indicated during the two months which receive another invitation to dinner at the have rendered great services to their hey been past masters of orthography. the present time that boys and girls should learn to spell correctly. It is better to do so before leaving the high school or the caught in nets. They are docile and clumsy,

At this time a misspelt word is looked the decade, and new and elegant structures | on by whoever knows it is misspelt as the earmark of a defective education. It may be said that this is a prejudice, but prejuor a statesman is seen using his knife as many as six are found on one line. Their a genius or a statesman than he was be- is at a low ebb. However, they have learned better, as the moisture of steam would be sidious growth, but as ignorance of the law | hotel to cost $1,000,000, and to be, when com- fore, but a great many persons jump at something about defensive methods, and damaging.

You Cannot Match these Cloak Values in the World.

Our $25.00

match it under $45.00.

27-INCH COATS, made of good kersey lined, in black and castor, pressed cheviot, silk-lined throughout, large storm collar, all sizes, $7.98

27-INCH MELTON AND KERSEY

COATS, in all shades of tans, castor and black, best lining; cloth or velvet coat or storm collar, strapped seams, worth $15.00 to $20.00; take imported KERSEY CLOTH COATS, elaborately trimmed with panne velvet, style, fit and finish unexcelled, all shades, $22.50 $16.50 value ......

SILK WAISTS

$5.00 TAFFETA SILK $3.98 WAISTS, all colors and sizes

A $15.00 COAT, strictly all-wool kersey cloth, guaranteed satin lining, storm collar, military cuffs; sale $8.50 cloth, storm collar, 3-inch cuffs, all

At the Washington Street Store.

WAISTS, to-morrow ......$2.75

BROSNAN'S Washington St.

THIS WEEK FOR CLOAKS, SUITS, FURS, SILKS AND DRESS GOODS.

Near Seal XXXX Coats of Selected Prime Skins. You cannot

27-INCH BLACK COATS of heavy your pick of a hundred $12.50 styles for ......

WAISTS, black and colors. $4.98

$3.50 fine French FLANNEL WAISTS from; to-morrow ......$2.50

or is connected by a small tunnel with the Above his nest he usually constructs a mud chimney, and it will stand sometimes is probably a defensive institution. Raccoons are fond of crawfish and they make nightly pilgrimages in quest of these crustaceans. They reach down into the nests

wherever they find them, yank the clawed

Jacket, 27-inch long skirt, sat-in and best kersey. Cannot be matched in the world for that price.

THREE-QUARTER COATS

A beautiful showing of all the latest novelties in three-quarter COATS, style collars, plain and paddock backs, best satin linings; 010 garments worth up to $30; a hundred with to styles to select from, for ..... Genuine Washington Mills KERSEY COATS, in black and colors, made with the new coat collar, fancy strapped seams, 3-inch cuffs, twilled silk lining, sizes from 32 $15.00 to 44; sale price.....

Strictly all-wool, beaver or kersey cloth 45-inch COATS, lined throughout with a good quality satin lining, storm or coat collar, black, tans, castors and navy blue; good $16.50 $12.50

500 WALKING SKIRTS Of extra quality melton cloth, in black and gray, 10 to 18 rows of stitching. full flaring flounce, all sizes and lengths, regular $4.98 skirts; at the

Washington - street store$3.98 100 TAILOR-MADE SUITS

Of black imported pebble cheviot, strictly all-wool skirts, made with a full graduated flounce, lined with spun glass; jacket silk-lined, with peau de soie faced revers; $22.50 suits, in a full line of sizes; at the Washington - street store $16.50

Shop the city from one end to the other and you can't match

$12.50

Cloak for less than $20.00.

For One Day Only--To-morrow

A great line of Fur Garments of all descriptions-a lot of manufacturers' samples. If we have your size, you can make a considerable saving here to-mor-

45 - INCH NEARSEAL JACKETS, wear guaranteed, $100.00 $69.00 quality .....

that usually sells for

GENUINE ALASKA SEAL JACKETS, best London dye, registered garments, row ..... $115.00

$150.00; here to-morrow $97.50 45-inch genuine ASTRAKHAN COATS, full storm collar, stayed seams

GENUINE OTTER JACKETS, the kind

WOOL SEAL JACKETS, large marten collar and revers, regular $35.00 $65.00 jackets ...... $65.00 genuine BEAVER JACKETS

throughout, wear guar-anteed $75.00 garments... $39.00

very best linings, storm $35.00 $75.00 NEARSEAL JACKETS XXXX skins, perfectly matched, golden beaver collars and revers,

100 NEARSEAL JACKETS, all sizes, 32 to 44, wear guaranteed, regular $40.00 jackets, at the Washing- $25.00

• ••••••••••••••••••••••• ashionable

TEVER were values higher or prices lower than right now in thisthe acknowledged birthplace of furniture fashions. We have sold a tremendous lot of Fine Furniture this fall with the usual result-odd pieces left out of our best parlor, library or bedroom furniture. We intend to sell this surplus stock-in fact we mu t sell and sell it quickly to make room for the largest and finest collection of Holiday Furniture ever shown here or elsewhere. Already this large store is crowded with some of the newest and best offerings for Christmas gilts, and we cannot urge you too strongly to come early this week and profit by the big reductions throughout our stock. At least pay us a visit and see our great exhibition of the New Mission Furniture

To-morrow one of our popular Morris Chair Sales. You know what that means-every Morris Chair in the stock at solid oak, golden finish or mahogany finish Morris Chair; large, strong, comfortable, fine reversible velour cushions in the latest designs.

$12 and $13 Morris Chairs go

219-221-223 EAST WASHINGTON STREET.

TISTRY Our work is STANDARD, our system PAINLESS and PLEASANT, our prices HONEST. We charge nothing for PAINLESS and PLEASANT, our prices I HONEST. We charge nothing for our FILLINGS ...... 500 NOTE. Remember, we are the large t and only incorporated dental concern in existence. Our written guarantee makes you safe and holds us respon-

UNION PAINLESS DENTISTS

COR. MARKET AND CIRCLE. EAST OF MONUMENT. GERMAN AND FRENCH : POKEN.

SUNDAY JOURNAL, BY MAIL, $2 PER YEAR

urniture

in Spanish leather effects in weathered oak finish, and the unexcelled display of Colonial Furniture.

at $9.50 to-morrow; $15 and $16 Morris Chairs, Flemish weather oak, golden oak, mahogany, go at $12.50 to-morrow. If you intend buying a Morris Chair this year we advise you to take advantage of this liberal offer. If necessary we will lay purchase aside for future delivery.

Sander & Recker Furniture Co. DIRECTLY OPPOSITE COURTHOUSE

reputation, although we could do so with perfect propriety.

OLD PHONE 2612 GREEN.

BRIDGE WORK ..... GOLD CROWMS ..... WHITE CROWNS....

GROUND FLOOR. NO STAIRS TO CLIMB. LADY ATTENDANTS.

will be prudence on the part of the rising | and tentacled fellows out and devour them on the spot. Mud chimneys make it harder with established forms, absurd though they | for the raccoon to reach them, and at least puts the forest marauder to more trouble. The chimneys are not works of art. They are plain, awkward heaps of mud, but built in layers and hollowed out very much after the fashion of the mud chimneys built by man in more primitive sections of the > measure strength with the other creatures which live under the same conditions. AN ENGINEER IN RUSSIA.

M. G. Cunniff, in The World's Work.

These nests are also used for a sort of place of refuge for the younger members

when they begin to take on the form of their kind and before they are able to composure the time when he is to stagger Modest William McCarroll, type of the to the center of the stage, hind end fore-American engineer who does things, went most, as it were, and when he will play his to Sergieff, Russia, to set a consignment of usual engagement of sixty days with the Baldwin locomotives. He found them in parts, filling countless boxes dumped in the The crawfish is peculiar in many respects, snow. A little railroad ran half way to the but this fact has robbed him of none of his main line on which the engines were to run. sweetness of flavor, nor has it detracted The interval was a hummocky waste. The one iota from his dietary value from the thermometer was twenty degrees below zero. One by one from the sparse hamlets But few crawfish are found in the market of the region he picked up 125 Russian peasants; hoisted his boxes with ropes and Occasionally, however, in the Old Quarter primitive pries upon flat cars; ran the cars one may find even at this season of the to the rail head; and scrutinized the steppe year a few members of this crustacean | before him; ridges, gullies, holes and hillsgroup, but they are used for flavoring purwith massive locomotive boilers to be poses, or as trimming for some of the other transported across them. From the scant materials at hand he made a great sled.

dishes peculiar to the lower section of the city. In the larger restaurants they are not | piled snow upon it and rolled a boiler in the known this early in the season. Later on, snow. Half of the hundred peasants hauled the heavy influx of visitors to this point on on a long rope; the other fifty went ahead account of trade and other attractions, will | constructing trestles over the gullies and probably force the larger restaurants to cuts through the iron soll of the hillocks. pay more attention to the crawfish, for the Day after day in the biting cold the human influx of visitors will create a demand for pack animals dragged those locomotive dishes peculiar to New Orleans, and the parts until all had reached the workshopvarious caterers generally manage to meet | a frigid Russian hillside. At Philadelphia the demand. Measuring between the earliten engines could be set up in a day; in Russia it took ten weeks for one. market, and the latest date on which he is Nor was there a holiday when the comfound in the market, the season will run pleted engines stood ready on the track. Water, which froze on the way, had to be for six months. But fishermen and men who make money out of the crawfish incarried half a mile and then melted. Mild fires had to be maintained to keep it melted. and April. During these two months craw-And when at last a wood fire was roaring fish are plentiful in this section, and all in the firebox of the first locomotive, and through the valley above this point. the engine was proudly puffing up the new They thrive in fresh water, in shallow track, the rails spread two miles from lakes and bayous, and along the edges of camp and the engine went pilot foremost down the bank. Consider the plight of a the smaller streams. Millions of these creatures are marketed single engineer, with a locomotive on its and consumed in New Orleans annually. nose in a snow bank, a few wooden levers, They are a delicious food when properly a rope and a gang of ignorant Slavs. But 'off again" with McCarroll, was "on prepared, and crawfish bisque has become again," if it took all the White Czar's subone of the famed dishes of this city.

them by the carload, for independent of the little scheming." It may have been brilconsumption in the hotels and restaurants liant engineering. Fire and Chemicals.

New York Commercial-Advertiser.

Relative to fire protection in the large office buildings, it would seem that the fire department has now gone crazy. Five or six years ago there were comparatively no regulations, the means for fighting fire in large buildings were inefficient, they were mere ornaments. Now the fire department compels the placing of a six-inch standpipe fore the season opens well and after it has | in all buildings over 120 feet in height, regardless of size; this is silly. Fighting fire with water is becoming antiquated. In a building handsomely decorated, more dam-At the fish market during the season they age is done by the fire department using water than is sustained by the fire itself. Some day large buildings will be piped for the use of chemicals. When a fire breaks low water, and during the season boys find out, the compartment in which it started great amusement in fishing for them, and | will be closed and the chemical valve opened. Should the fire spread beyond one lines and bended pins for hooks. The crawcompartment a whole floor could be cut off dices must be reckoned with. If a genius | fish is easily caught and not infrequently | and subjected to chemical action. This is a recognized mode of fighting fire at sea.

jects to help him; for by dint of the snow

shoveling and the tugging of two hundred peasants the engine returned to the rails.

Mr. McCarroll says the whole feat "took a

$5.85, worth $8.0:

FULL SET TEETH ...

HOURS: 8 to 8; SUNDAYS, 9:30 to 4.